DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of claims 19-31 in the reply filed on 7/31/07 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 21-27 recites the limitation "a latch" in claim 19. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 19,28-31, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over USP 2,030,367 (Grave) in view of "Metro Vac N' Blo" and USP 4,405,158 to Huberman (Huberman).

Grave discloses a portable vacuum cleaner comprising an inlet housing (lowermost of figure 1) in which dirt is received, releasably coupled to an outlet housing, the outlet housing having a handle 23, an intake 25, and exhaust outlet 9, a fan assembly 26. The exhaust outlet is disclosed as being used to direct air blasts on objects to be cleaned (col. 1, lines 53-55). The reference does not show a hose or plurality of inflator nozzles. The web page advertisement for the "Metro Vac N' Blo" shows a vacuum having an vacuum inlet for dust on one end and an exhaust outlet on the other end, a flexible vacuum hose for connection to the inlet or outlet and a plurality (3-4) of various sized inflator nozzles to be connected to the end of the hose.

Recognizing that the exhaust outlet of a vacuum can be used with a flexible hose and inflator nozzles to inflate inflatable objects as disclosed in the web page, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art that the hose and nozzles described in the web page could be used with the vacuum in Grave for inflating inflatables.

Grave nor the web page disclose inflator nozzles with an aperture. Huberman discloses an inflator nozzle having an aperture 57 in the sidewall for holding an adapter 59 for the nozzle.

Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to use the nozzle in Huberman with the combined vacuum/inflator in Grave in view of the nozzles known use as disclosed in Huberman.

Claims 28-30 specify a size and shape of the aperture. In Gardner v. TEC Systems, Inc., 725 F.2d 1338, 220 USPQ 777 (Fed. Cir. 1984), cert. denied, 469 U.S. 830, 225 USPQ 232 (1984), the Federal Circuit held that, where the only difference between the prior art and the claims was a recitation of relative dimensions of the claimed device and a device having the claimed relative dimensions would not perform differently than the prior art device, the claimed device was not patentably distinct from the prior art device. Accordingly, the dimensions specified are considered to be obvious in view of Huberman.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 20 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 21-27 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement filed 4/12/04 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each cited foreign patent document; each non-patent literature publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The remaining US patents cited are considered to be generally related.
